

All the preparations for the wrestling match are completed and the spectators are expected to be in the arena by 10 o'clock. The men are in the best of health and condition, and each is confident of achieving a victory, although the odds are against the Frenchman. The match will be a magnificent trial of strength and skill, and will be well worth seeing by those who admire athletic contests.

Mr. C. J. Jacobs and party, who have been stopping in town for the past month, left this morning for their home in the vicinity of Buena Vista. Mr. Jacobs is an old and experienced miner and millman, well known all over the west, and is now backed by a strong New York company. His party here for the past six or eight months has been prospecting Northern Arizona, and are quite certain that they have found an old Spanish mine, the mine of which would produce the amount of several millions of dollars and which was, when abandoned, a bonanza.

Board of Supervisors.
The principal business transacted by the Board of Supervisors on Thursday was the auditing of the numerous accounts.

Yesterday a resolution was passed directing the Sheriff to receive into his custody all prisoners committed to the City Jail. Keep an account of the same in a separate book, and return the same quarterly to the Board, charging for each prisoner at the same rate as is charged for the county prisoners.

The author of the interesting and valuable letter, which we publish, is about to furnish the columns of The Citizen with a brief but comprehensive history of the growth of Globe City and vicinity, from the date of the earliest discoveries in that camp to the present time. This will prove valuable not only to those of our readers who have material interests in that remarkably rich district, but also to all who take pleasure in watching the growth and progress of our leading camps.

Mr. Edwards has busy this forenoon making a survey of the boundaries and levels of the block of land known as Sweet's old block, which lies just south of Wells's building, running from Main street through to Rogers's. We understand that L. Zeckendorf & Co. are about to erect on this ground a large and costly business block to contain, besides rooms for their own immense business, several stores for different purposes.

Mr. B. B. Kelley informs us that the summer excursion to Santa Monica and San Francisco which has been in contemplation for some time has probably fallen through, at least for the present. There is a possibility, however, that such terms may yet be obtained from the railroad company as will enable him to carry out the object, in which case ample notice will be given of the fact.

The extent and variety of the stock carried at the Arizona and California Company's lumber yard is a great convenience to builders. Everything that can possibly be required in the construction of a house is to be conveniently found here, even to the most minute detail, and at prices which cannot be discounted at any other place.

Any of the semi-tropical fruits appear in their season at Tucson with the certainty and regularity of a perfect system. The contrast which this state of affairs affords to the days before Pierce's Cash Store took its place in the commercial arena, is one of the most striking instances of our rapid territorial growth.

One of the most metropolitan establishments in the city is the grocery store of C. Seligman & Co., on Congress street. No more attractive display of fancy groceries is made in any store in this city than in the store of this store of San Francisco, and the advantage of long experience enables them to place the finest grades of goods before their customers at a very moderate cost.

John Meyer held quite an imposing levee to-day. Two plain drunks, accompanied by one hilarious or disorderly conduct, paid $5 each. A belligerent fighter got 20 days, while a muscular member of the opposing sex was fined $10 for the same offense.

Nothing is nicer on a hot day than a glass of the celebrated Los Angeles beer, drawn fresh from the keg and kept cool in ice in the City. The place to get this can be at H. C. Germaine's, on Meyer's street a few doors north of the Palace.

The Bank Exchange Restaurant and Saloon "takes the cake" for a house of entertainment. Good and well cooked food, a cool dining-room, fine liquors, and polite and attentive waiters are what do it.

Any person in this part of the Territory by the name of Brockman will obtain information of much importance by addressing Fred A. Nupton, Box 110, Globe City.

The Rev. Mr. Messenger will hold divine service to-morrow in the Presbyterian Church, at 11 o'clock.

The Tombstone Townsite.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office, under date of June 25, has written the Register and Receiver of the Florence Land Office giving his decision in the Tombstone Townsite case and on the protests made by Edward Feld et al. against the entry lien, allowed. After stating the case quite fully the letter says that the protestants present the following two reasons as the basis of their cause, viz:

1. That if the townsite embraces mineral lands, particularly a valid mining claim located prior to the occupation of the premises for town purposes, and

2. That said entry was made for speculative purposes by certain persons, and not for the benefit of the inhabitants of the town.

In regard to the first of these objections the Commissioner says the matter is wholly covered by the decision in the case of Central City, Colorado, which decision has been printed in our columns heretofore, and that when a patent is issued a clause will be inserted therein excluding from the operation of the patent all valid mining rights within the limits of the townsite.

As to the second allegation, that Michael Gray and others, forming an association had the entry made for speculative purposes, the Commissioner holds from the papers in the case that the entry was made in full conformity to law by the Mayor and Common Council of Tombstone, and that the patent will issue to said Mayor or as trustee for the benefit of the occupants of the town; and as to the manner in which the trustee will discharge his duties, that is something that is not within the jurisdiction of the Land Office, but must be settled by the corporate authorities and the town occupants in the courts of the Territory. For these reasons a hearing on the protests is refused.

The letter ends thus: "You will call upon the authorities to furnish proof of the number and character of the municipal and other improvements upon said townsite, upon receipt of which, if satisfactory, the entry will be approved."

A Narrow Escape.
A Mexican, named Jesus Sandoval, Wednesday descended to the bottom of an old well in the rear of Cory's grocery store, on Maiden Lane, for the purpose of cleaning it out. The pot-snoosers at the bottom were so powerful that he attempted to escape by climbing the rope, but after reaching a short distance from the bottom he became overpowered and fell back into the well. Quite a little time elapsed before another man could be found to attempt his rescue, and Leandro Manuel, who finally descended, was so suffocated by the bad air that he was dragged up again more dead than alive. Sandoval then made the attempt, but the rope with which he was fastened proved too short, and before he finally procured sufficient rope, Sandoval had been at the bottom of the well fully an hour. He was still breathing when brought to the surface, and had received some severe bruises about the head from his fall. By this time Drs. Lyford and Lathrop had arrived on the scene, and together they succeeded in restoring the almost suffocated man to a state of semi-consciousness. It is thought that unless congestion of the brain should ensue, he will fully recover.

Mr. B. HEVLY, proprietor of the well-known French restaurant at the corner of Meyer's and Ochoa streets, has recently associated in business with him Mr. N. Gaboniet, and together they mean to not only maintain the high standard of excellence which has hitherto distinguished the house, but are determined to make it second to none in the city. Here can be had a genuine French dinner at a price within the reach of all, and the manner in which the dining apartments are fitted up adds that important feature to dining which makes it the greatest of pleasures. The proprietors invite all their old friends and patrons to give them a call.

Personal.
S. P. Fallas and A. Stout, of Cadillac, Mich., registered at the Cosmopolitan yesterday.

J. A. Wilson, of Florence, is in the city.

J. S. Sherburne is in the city from San Simon, and is stopping at the Cosmopolitan.

Dr. E. von Hasselcher is in Tucson again.

C. P. Dunavan, of Harshaw, is at the Palace.

Fred. F. Ballard, of Sacramento, registered to-day at the Palace.

P. N. Brock, traveling agent of several large Eastern and California publishing houses, died in this city very suddenly last evening. He has just returned from a business trip throughout the mining camps, and had contracted a violent cold. The immediate cause of his death we did not learn definitely, but understood that it was apoplexy. The funeral took place this afternoon.

Mr. WILLIAM ZECKENDORF has just acquired another partner in his wholesale business, and although the new member of the firm is not yet of much commercial weight and ability (only 10 pounds), it is a safe bet that Mr. Zeckendorf is perfectly well satisfied.

MR. CLARK offers his ice machine for sale at a price which makes it a desirable investment. Its capacity is one ton of ice per day, and it is particularly adapted to use in mining camps.

We saw a genuine prairie schooner set sail to-day across the mesa, and her cargo consisted of goods from Pierce's Cash Store, destined for Harshaw.

A Query.

Tucson, July 8.

EDITOR CITIZEN: Now that Tucson has grown to the dignity of a city, I would like to inquire when we will be favored with some improvements in connection with our postal service, and particularly with regard to the closing of mails. With many of our business men it is impossible to close their correspondence in time to get it into the postoffice before 8 o'clock in the evening, and under present rules if letters are not in the office before that hour they are laid over for another day, although the first mail that goes out does not leave the city for four hours and a half later. It would be a great convenience to those of us who have to take advantage of the evening hours to conduct our correspondence, if a distribution could be had say an hour before the departure of the mails, and we are now so numerous as to have the right to expect that some such action be taken.

A CITIZEN.
[We would state for "Citizen's" information that there is no provision for any night service in the Tucson postoffice, and that the present hours are already too many to expect the clerks to extend them into the small hours of the night. Still, as our correspondent observes, the business in Tucson is now of sufficient importance to give our citizens the right to demand more accommodations at the hands of the Department.—Ed. CITIZEN.]

Important Mining Sale.

The sale of the American Flag mine to Mayor Leatherwood and Mr. H. M. Kell is now definitely announced. The price paid was $11,800, which, we believe, will look astonishingly small when the property is sufficiently developed, as we understand it is the intention of the new owners to do. Mr. Isaac Laurin, the original locator and one of the recent owners, certainly deserves to succeed, for he located the American Flag some two years ago, and he has tied right up his colors ever since, never swerving in his faith in her great future. And unless the reports which reach us concerning this property are the grossest exaggerations, Mr. Laurin will not have to wait long to see his faith justified. He goes back to the camp to-morrow, where he has a number of other fine prospects, which he is now enabled to do in a measure develop. The interest beginning to be shown in this comparatively new section amounts almost to excitement, and we predict an early and rising boom for the Old Hat and Bloodstock Districts. The sooner the better. They will hear investigation and development.

A Frightful Loss of Flesh.
A certain very thin citizen met a well-known member of the medical fraternity under the shade of Charlie Brown's roof-tree yesterday afternoon, and as he gently pushed the ice around the top of the glass with his lead-pencil, he sadly bewailed the havoc the heat was making with his corporeity.

"Yes," said Medicine, after he had critically examined a fly above the mirror through the top of his glass, "this heat does pull a man down, for a fact. Why, there's Croley, the butcher; he lost over 75 pounds of flesh last month, and he wasn't a very fat man either."

"Show you don't tell me!" ejaculated the astounded Slim; and the full and awful significance of that gloomy joke didn't penetrate his skull until a few minutes later. If that doctor doesn't lose some flesh himself, we very much mistake the temper of this order-loving people.

Pickens-Moody.
The announcement of the marriage of Mr. B. A. Pickens and Miss Ella Moody, of Warrensburg, Mo., will be a great surprise to many of the happy bridegroom's friends, but the congratulations will be none the less hearty. The marriage was the result of an engagement of years' standing, and no better evidence of the strength of the attachment could exist than the fact that the bride came alone all the way from her home in Warrensburg, Mo. Refined and intelligent, the plucky young lady is well fitted to be a pioneer's bride. The CITIZEN offers the young couple its best congratulations.

From present appearances, Oddy & Co. have made a "ten-strike" in their new restaurant on Mesilla street, next door to the Alhambra. The internal arrangements of the restaurant are about the best we have seen in Tucson, and the kitchen is well worth a visit, if for nothing else than to note the ingenuously displayed in its arrangement, and the perfect order and cleanliness attained. The proprietors are determined to make this the most popular eating house in the city, and they certainly make a fine move in that direction.

CONDUCTOR RAY had the misfortune on Tuesday night to be caught between two cars while coupling, and had his foot badly mangled, besides sustaining other injuries. He was brought to this city on an engine yesterday afternoon for treatment, and left on this morning's train for his home in Stockton. It is said that the engine which brought him in from Casa Grande made the 65 miles in one hour and ten minutes, which is certainly something to brag about.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, by their attorney, H. N. Alexander, filed on July 5, 1880, their protest against the assessing of railroad property for the year 1880 in Maricopa county, claiming that under certain sections of our laws said property is exempt from taxation for six years, and ask that the said assessment be stricken from the roll of that county.

Departure of Superintendent E. B. Wakefield.

Quite an important change is announced in the local management of the Esperanza mine, the present Superintendent, Mr. E. B. Wakefield, being succeeded by Dr. J. H. Oids, of Indianapolis. Mr. Wakefield, while well pleased with Arizona, has long been desirous of resigning his command of the Esperanza forces, as he has interests at his home in Ohio which demand his personal attention; but the company were loth to part with his services, and it was only at his earnest solicitation that the change was made. During his administration of the company's local affairs the Esperanza has gradually come to be considered as one of the most promising mines in the Territory, and the work of its development has been characterized by signal executive ability. The utmost confidence has been reposed in him by the company, and he has most certainly deserved it.

THE CITIZEN cannot bid Mr. Wakefield goodbye without first thanking him for numerous courtesies and kindnesses, and wishing him the same success and usefulness in his new sphere that he has attained here during his sojourn among our people.

We had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Oids, his successor, and believe that his reputation is a guarantee that Mr. Wakefield could not have a more worthy successor. He is not unknown in the mining world, and we are certain that his residence in Arizona will prove profitable alike to himself and the sterling company he represents.

At the Depot.

The grading and clearing away of the rubbish in and around the new round house is nearly completed, and the stalls will shortly be ready for the reception of the black cavalry.

The frame-work of the machine-shops is also in place, and the carpenters have commenced to nail on the "outer walls."

The freight shed is almost filled with goods, and the large number of teams constantly employed in delivering the same can hardly keep sufficient space cleared for the succeeding day's arrivals.

The number of iron cafes constantly arriving is something astonishing, no less than five coming on last night's train, consigned to different parties.

Mr. C. LIXO is in town again from Contention City, and informs us that his firm (Muller & Lind) have commenced grading for the new Sunset mill, which will be erected about a quarter of a mile below the Contention. It is to have 10 stamps, with a capacity for 15, and the reputation of the builders is a guarantee that it will be a good one. It will probably be finished sometime in October. The Boston mill is somewhat delayed by the scarcity of lumber, but Mr. Lind thinks that by September it will be ready for business. Muller & Lind have also taken a contract to build a Post-grad crushing mill in New Mexico, not far from Silver City.

The census returns from the district west of the Santa Cruz river are in, and show the following figures: Arivaca and vicinity, 700; Oro Blanco, 800; Babogivari, 100; Tubac and vicinity, 125; along the river from Calabazas and Tubac, 200. Total white population of the district, 1,425. The population of the Indians at San Xavier and vicinity, taken by villages, 2,500; unincorporated (smaller villages, children, etc.), about 2,500, making a gross population in the district of 6,425.

Pima County's Population.
The census returns are now all in with the exception of three precincts, and the figures thus far foot up 21,507. The three precincts yet to make returns and their several populations (carefully estimated) are as follows: Patagonia district, 1800; Santa Cruz district, 800; Camp Thomas district, 1000. Total, 4,100. This brings the grand total up to between 25,000 and 26,000. Tucson shows about 7000.

The owner of the brown colt Hinglish Henna issues a challenge to the Black Pillay and Sorel Mare to trot or run for the championship of Tucson. The red Devil challenges the Territory. Pools will be sold at the usual place. All entries free. Race will take place at Silver Lake Sunday evening. The foregoing are all very "fast" and of excellent bottom. By order of the Committee.

The tickets for the grand benefit social and ball at the Summer Theatre on Tuesday evening next, are on sale at Tully & Ochoa's store. Remember that the entire proceeds of the affair go to the purchase of the much needed windmill at the Sister's Hospital. Let every one purchase a ticket, and the desired result will be accomplished.

MR. J. P. FULLER, of the Agua Caliente Ranch, is forever embalmed in the good graces of "our boys" for his substantial compliment in the shape of some fine watermelons. The way that fruit faded away was sudden in the last degree to those who happened to arrive too late.

A PRIVATE letter from Harshaw states that that camp is solid for Garfield, and we may look out for a rattling good justification of the day in November when Hancock is sent back to his command. By that time we expect Harshaw to be a great camp, if she fulfills her present promise.

The San Xavier Mining and Smelting Company have commenced the work of roasting ore at their furnace. The smelting furnace itself is completed, and it is expected that it will be started up in a day or two.

A CARLOAD of chopped feed has just been received by D. Felix.

A Novel Method.

Several days ago the following notice appeared in one of the Newark (New Jersey) papers:

TO JOHN TEARDROCK: Notice is hereby given to my husband John Teardrock, who left home, No. 107 South Orange avenue, Newark, N. J., on the 25th day of March, 1879, that unless he returns within three days I will marry again, whoever I may choose.

The husband has not returned. To-day a reporter called upon the woman, who is a native of Posen, Poland. She believed that to select husband No. 2 in case No. 1 failed to put in an appearance, would be a proper thing to do. She stated that her object in marrying again was to get support for herself and family, consisting of a boy 11 years old, a girl 6 and a feeble and helpless mother.

Mrs. Teardrock is a short and comely matron of forty, and as she advertises that she will marry again, if husband No. 1 does not appear, and she states that she has no particular No. 2 in view, it is inferred that she is in the market. Teardrock, the trustant husband, first left his wife September 17, 1873, and was absent until May 22, 1879. He remained home until March 28, 1880, when he again left, it is supposed, for Germany.

When the reporter of a local paper called to see her today, her countenance beamed with joy, thinking that an applicant for Teardrock's old shoes had come to lay his fortune at her feet. She felt and when she was given to understand by the interpreter the scribbled errand.

THE NEW YORK Mining and Engineering Journal says: "Mr. Sutter was in receipt of a pension of $3,000 from the State of California." Our New York correspondent is in error. We did give Sutter a pension for a while, but were too poor to continue, and so stopped it; but we have given the deceased pioneer some perfectly gorgeous obituary notices and are therefore even.

The Fastest Doctor.
CHICAGO, June 8.—The Inter-Ocean's New York special says: Dr. Tanner's friends now charge twenty-five cents admission, as a precaution against too great a crowd, who annoy the Doctor. The regular physicians have at last shown an interest in the case, and are now watching the symptoms and result of the fast. Tanner does not look emaciated, but appears in good condition, and has the look of a well-nourished man. He wears a lively expression, and shows no indications of suffering. He absorbs a little water in his hands and in rinsing his mouth, but otherwise he takes nothing whatever. One doctor says he is not closely watched, and that he fails to detect the odd characteristic of starvation, or any other marked symptoms, and that he does not believe the fast can be accomplished. This is the tenth day. At 2 o'clock this morning Dr. Tanner entered on the 11th day of his fast. His pulse was 80, temperature 98.0, respiration 14. Some excitement was created by the statement from Dr. Bradley that a sponge saturated with purgative liquid had been found on the watch.

Campaign Assessments.
CHICAGO, July 7.—The Times' Washington special says: A clerk in the Treasury Department was surprised on Thursday to find that with $200 handed him by the distributing officer was a note stating that, as he had not responded to McPherson's circular, $200 had been withheld for campaign purposes. The clerk was very indignant, but soon learned that he was one of many victims, and that any careless talk might result in the loss of his place. This is the first time that Desperados Captured.

SROCKTON, TEXAS, July 8.—A party of Rangers met a band of four desperados yesterday. Both parties dismounted, took to the rocks, and firing began. The telegraph wires have been recently cut in several places, supposed to have been the work of this gang.

The Eastern Question.
ROME, July 8.—The Montenegrins are abandoning all their positions near Dulcigno, and are marching on Pradguitza, which they intend to attack without delay. It is said that they will gather the crops in the fields belonging to the Albanians, as they advance. A serious attack occurred, in which several Turks were killed; cause, cruelly committed by the Turks.
